

SynoFin Risk Management Solutions - Now Available on Temenos Exchange

The new generation risk management software RiskMan provides risk and performance calculation results on demand, regulatory compliant and certified by ISAE3000-Standard

Liechtenstein, June 19th 2023 – SynoFin Risikomanagement Service AG, a leading provider of risk management solutions and services today announced RiskMan from now on is available on Temenos Exchange, the partner ecosystem of integrated fintech solutions.

The new generation risk management software solution RiskMan, based on web/cloud-technology provides t-0 risk and performance calculation and reporting services with proved interfaces to Temenos modules and enables asset and risk managers to optimize risk, performance and P&L in any combination – worldwide, multilingual, performant, workflow-driven, secure, compliant and role-specific.

Temenos Exchange brings open innovation to market faster, and at scale. The ecosystem offers pre-integrated and approved fintech solutions that can be easily deployed on top of Temenos open platform for composable banking, enabling banks to accelerate the creation of new financial services, while reducing the costs of development.

Martin Bailey, Director of Innovation and Ecosystems, Temenos, said: “Temenos Exchange acts as an accelerator for fintechs and software developers, helping them develop, validate and monetize new banking solutions. The integration with Temenos and joining Temenos Exchange means SynoFin can write once and be readily available to the thousands of banks globally that run on the platform.”

“SynoFin is a well established risk-provider with innovative technologies and methods. As an experienced and proven partner of customers and platforms we look forward to join Temenos Exchange and to offer our solutions and services to a wider range of users” said Dr. Günter Unterleitner, Founder and CEO of SynoFin Risk Management Service AG.

“SYNOFINs availability on Temenos Exchange further extends our commitment to the banking community and enables Temenos customers to easily reap the benefits of RiskMan. We look forward to leveraging the power of the Temenos platform to help us achieve our business goals.”
